school dinners

Our goal is to transform school dinners by providing tasty, compliant menus that children love.

Using our 45 years' experience in the catering industry and our BRC accreditation, we have identified the very best suppliers of food for the education sector. We work closely with schools to develop these ingredients into varied, imaginative menus that engage pupils and meet the School Food Trust's nutrient-based standards.

We know how hard it is to balance the tastes of children with tough nutritional and budgetary guidelines. Thanks to our comprehensive range of food and drinks designed especially for school meals, your life is now a little easier.

Our comprehensive range of school foods reflects the nutrient-based standards set out by the School Food Trust

We have carefully sourced products that enable catering managers to put the regulations into practice offering a balanced, varied diet that will appeal to children.

We are an official Red Tractor approved supplier and our fish products are approved by the Marine Stewardship Council. As associate members of the Local Authority Caterers Association (LACA), we keep up to date with the latest developments, ensuring our smile team can help you successfully navigate the legislative maze.

baked food that can be served every day ☺

We work with you to develop menus utilising popular meat, fish and vegetarian oven baked dishes that provide maximum flexibility and most importantly, appeal to children.

Don't forget to check with your supplier that the food you order hasn't been pre-fried. Just because you are oven baking a dish doesn't automatically exempt it from the pre-frying process!

We have sourced the very best oven baked food that conforms to School Food Trust standards. Current regulations allow breaded fish to be sold every day, which is why we have a comprehensive range to choose from, giving you variety, a good nutritional balance and uniform portion sizes at a price that will make you smile.

We know you take pride in your menus and we understand that creating interesting, varied meals on a weekly cycle is no easy task.

To make choosing the right meals easier, why not 'try before you buy'? We are happy to come to your school and cook a selection of your preferred products, so you and the children can see first-hand how they are prepared, presented and crucially, how good they taste.

At Eric Twigg School Foods we help catering managers identify appetizing school-approved dishes that meet current legislation. We are always on hand to answer any questions you may have and we can help select healthy menu choices that will keep your children smiling.

Eric Twigg School Foods customers can access training courses run by our suppliers. Delivered by a registered nutritionist, these seminars provide more detailed information about a vast range of subjects, from menu analysis to allergen awareness.
